Description:

The pouffe is a compact and versatile seating unit. It can be used as a single seat or as a complementary element within larger arrangements. Its compact dimensions make it easy to move around and reconfigure the space.

It forms part of a range of modular furniture designed for public spaces, characterised by great sturdiness and compositional flexibility. The forms are based on fluid lines and rounded geometric transitions, allowing for the creation of harmonious configurations that can be adapted to different functions and dimensions.

The collection is manufactured using rotational moulding with HDPE (high-density polyethylene) granules, ensuring a uniform material structure, high mechanical strength and a long service life even under conditions of intensive use.

It also offers resistance to UV rays, moisture, temperature fluctuations and impact, making the pieces suitable for both indoor and outdoor use.
