Description:

This project stems from the need to have mobile structures that allow you to protect yourself from the sun only at certain times of the year.

Therefore, creating independent elements that could have an aesthetic value even without a shading function was the primary goal, and from here the idea of creating wooden "flowers" to be fixed to the ground was developed, which ... when the sun comes out, bases are made to fix sheets specially designed to filter light and heat, creating islands of shade in our gardens.

And when the sun is not there ... with a simple gesture the cloth disappears and the large wooden flowers remain!

Using the standard pole, therefore, it will be possible to obtain infinite variations of shape and size thanks to the shading sheets that can be made to measure.

Posts H 280 cm from the ground + 50 cm underground. The hooks for the towel are 250 cm from the ground.

The decorations are made of polyethylene
